Dear readers and contributors,

I am delighted to announce the release of the second issue of our journal (Volume 3, issue 2, 2024) in collaboration with a new publisher (IP Innovative Publication Pvt Limited). IP Innovative Publication publishes numerous journals across various fields within the health sciences. We anticipate gaining knowledge and profiting from their renowned editing skills, successful marketing strategies, and digital capabilities. Our journal aligns with the goal of IP Innovative Publication to provide a venue for excellent research and to uphold the highest academic standards. IP Innovative Publication offers authors a quick and user-friendly online system for submitting their work, guiding them through each step of the process. We hope that the transition from the previous publisher to the new one will be smooth for you as readers and that you will only see improvements in our performance.

The editorial/reviewer team has put a lot of effort into releasing this issue, which presents the latest advances in various medical fields, in the hope of stimulating your interest to explore them. We look forward to enhancing the reputation of our publications and wish to receive more high-quality contributions. We expect a fruitful, challenging, and successful 2024 with our readers and supporters who share our vision. We welcome any helpful feedback on ways to make our processes more efficient as we strive for continuous improvement.
